Timeline

Overview

The Yellowfin User Timeline consists of two different layouts designed to allow users to track events that occur in the system, and collaborate with other users, or to manage the tasks they are associated with

Layout	Description
Timeline Feed	This view allows the user to explore events that have occurred in the system related to them or their connections. This can consist of content creation, content views, comments, tasks, etc.
Task Management	This view allows the user to manage all tasks they are associated with, either because the tasks are allocated to them, or they were the creator of the task.

Depending on the navigation style the administrator has chosen to use for the system, there may be one of two ways for users to access their timeline and related settings. They will either do so through the left side navigation, or the main toolbar, either way clicking on their name to open the options.
